

Ideas Fly At Summer Conference in High Point

STORY ON PAGE ONE

Member Options

- Branch • Members at Large
- College/University Partnership
- Student Affiliates

Laura Rumbley, AAUW NC president, and Lola Jackson, AAUW NC college/university liaison, take a moment to network with members from across the state.

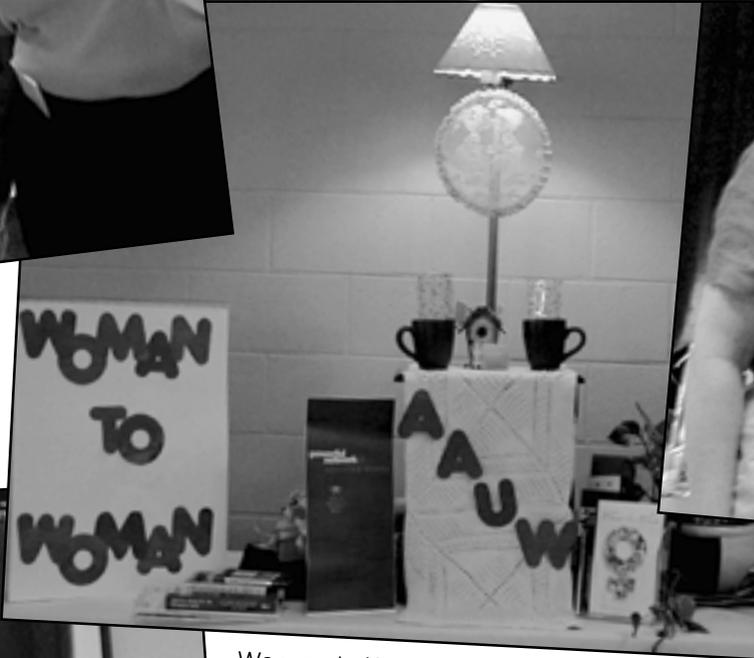

Nina Mosely, associate director of Democracy South, speaks, as Erin Boyd, coalition coordinator for North Carolina Voters for Clean Elections looks on. The facts they presented were real eye-openers. Information: Democracy South: 888-687-8683 or demosouth@all4democracy.org and NCVCE: 1-877-663-3257.

PHOTO: JOANNE HILL

Nancy Shoemaker, AAUW NC technology coordinator and program committee member, and Sue Metz, AAUW NC membership vice-president, combined technology, creativity, and information to present an outstanding program about selling AAUW.

Woman to Woman booth utilizes familiar home accessories to portray the mood of these important AAUW dialogues which help women connect with each other.

PHOTOS: NANCY SHOEMAKER

AAUW has a wide variety of brochures and reports which can be incorporated into a general booth. Be visible in your community every chance you get!

Member Discounts

- Shape the Future
- Emerging Leader
- Give a Grad a Gift

Projects

- Transitions Conference
- Voter Education Forum
- Woman to Woman Dialogue
- Special Branch Projects

Build your branch, build AAUW, Speak to the Mission!

The resources are available! www.aauw.org www.rtnet.org/aauwnc • aauwnc@rtpnet.org • NC Toll-Free 800-320-3933

Red, white, and blue is an eye-catcher for AAUW Get-Out-The-Vote or public policy promotions.